Test yourself!

Love sports? Costa del Sol is ideally situated to practice all types of sports.

day 1 Golf

The Costa del Sol has the largest concentration of golf courses in the south of Europe and is becoming increasingly known as the Costa del Golf (Golf Coast). A mediterranean coastline where the combination of a warm, sunny climate, a beautiful landscape and world class service equals a top-class golfing resort.

Players not only have a vast choice of golf courses to choose from, but they can even play at night at a uniquely illuminated golf course.

day 2 Horse riding

Despite the growth of tourism and infrastructure, it is still possible to enjoy horse trekking in the depths of rural Andalucía on an original mule tracks. This is undeniably one of the best ways to combine a passion for nature with ancient cultural tradition.

day 3 Hiking

The Costa del Sol provides the opportunity for you to literally "lose yourself" in the mountains, valleys and woods that comprise the rural inland region.

The "Sierra de las Nieves", "Sierra de Tejada", "Almijara", and "El Torcal de Antequera" are all examples of places of stunning natural beauty which are ideal for the hiking and walking enthusiast.

day 4 Mountain -Biking

Mountain biking appeals to many people as it combines specific skills of balance and orientation with optimum levels of energy and fitness and a love of the outdoors. Throughout the Costa del Sol, there are some superb biking trails to be found which range from leisurely even ground to steep and demanding hillside. These routes pass through a dramatic range of landscape, including mountainous terrain, historic, monuments, coastal roads and small country tracks.
