

Scheduled Departure Coach Tour LOCH NESS WEEKEND

Guided in English

Due to increased demand we feature extended tours of Scotland for individual clients in cooperation with local 4* coach operators. Run with small groups, a maximum of 16 passengers, these tours are as close as you can get to touring in your own car, but with the added benefit of your driver/ guide's intimate knowledge of Scotland. Travelling as a small group means a lot of stops can be made and "out of the way" places can be reached, giving you more time off the bus to discover the real Scotland.

Airport transfers can be booked as an optional extra on all coach tours/ English speaking.

Day 1 (Mon/ Wed/ Fri)

Arrive at Edinburgh and make your own way to the hotel (airport transfer can be pre-booked on request). Check in at the hotel and enjoy the rest of the day discovering Scotland's capital city. Overnight in Edinburgh.

Day 2 (Tue/ Thu/ Sat)

Check out of the hotel and a private, pre-arranged transfer will take you to the departure point at 207 High Street.

Depart Edinburgh, passing Linlithgow Palace, Mary Queen of Scots birthplace, on our way to Stirling. Here you will see Stirling Castle and the Wallace Monument. Past Doune and Callander, we now cross over the fault line into the magnificent Highlands. Take in the splendour of Loch Luibnaig, Loch Earn, through Glen Dochart and continue over the wild and remote Rannoch Moor into Glencoe. We stop in this imposing mountain pass to take a walk around Glencoe Lochan to enjoy the amazing views.

Continuing north up the Great Glen to Loch Ness with plenty of time to try and spot "Nessie!" Arrive at Inverness at around 19.30hr, where you will be dropped off at your booked accommodation. Overnights Inverness.

Day 3 (Wed/ Fri/ Sun)

You will be picked up between 09.00hr & 09.30hr from your accommodation in Inverness. We travel south along Loch Ness, stopping on the way for some photos of this world famous Loch. Half way down the Loch, we head west into Glen Affric. This beautiful and unique area is one of the last remaining pockets of native Caledonian Pine Forest left standing. The landscape will take you back in time to how Scotland would have looked 500 years ago. This location was used in the film "Last of the Mohicans". We can spend some time here and enjoy a walk through the forest, alongside the River Affric.

From Glen Affric, we go to Drumnadrochit with the option to spend some time, before travelling south again along Loch Ness to Fort Augustus. From here we travel south through the Grampian Mountains, along Loch Laggan, past Blair Castle, stopping for refreshments in Pitlochry before returning to Edinburgh, past Perth and over the Forth Road Bridge. Arrive at around 19.30hr.

Make your way from here to your hotel and check in for your last night. Overnight Edinburgh.

Day 4 (Thu/ Sat/ Mon)
